Cambridge, ON (March 26, 2010) – Lone Wolf Real Estate Technologies has been named Business of the Year (over 50 employees) by The Cambridge Chamber of Commerce.

The Business of the Year award nominees are the most prominent and successful companies in Cambridge, ON. Lone Wolf was selected for their phenomenal growth over the last 20 years with now over 8,000 real estate offices in North America using their products & services and over 100 employees spread out across Canada and the United States. In addition to their business growth, Lone Wolf has also given to the community through their extensive work with various charitable organizations throughout the year. From raising funds for Big Brothers and Big Sisters to breast cancer research with Susan G. Komen's Passionately Pink for the Cure to riding in the Big Bike event for the Heart & Stroke foundation, this company was commended for giving back to the community.

"When Lorne Wallace moved his small startup, Lone Wolf Real Estate Technologies, to Cambridge in 1997 it only had four employees. Over the next 13 years, he built the company from humble beginnings into a force to be reckoned with in the real estate industry." says Chuck Howitt, writer for The Record.

"We were very excited to be considered for the Business of the Year (over 50 employees) award and were absolutely thrilled to take this honor back to the office." Lorne C. Wallace, C.A., President and Founder of Lone Wolf says "When we were called to the podium at the awards dinner, our first thought was that we should really have 100 others standing behind us accepting this award as we couldn't have done it without our amazing team!"
